

THE BLUE PRINT

A black and white photograph of a brick building, possibly a school or institutional structure, with a large, leafy tree in the foreground. The tree's branches are spread across the upper half of the image. The building has a prominent doorway in the center and a smaller window to the right. The overall tone is somber and historical.

FOREWORD

IN AFTER years, when what is now reality belongs to a dim and hazy past, if this book shall call forth the cherished and hallowed memories of our student days at Belmont High School, its purpose shall have been fulfilled and its story told not in vain.

MR. FRANK A. SCOTT

D E D I C

MISS GERTRUDE L. MILLER

We, the class of 1940, dedicate our "Blueprint" to Mr. Frank A. Scott and Miss Gertrude S. Miller in appreciation of their years of untiring efforts in our behalf, and sincerely wish for their continued health and happiness.

CLASS PROPHECY

Station WBHS, Belmont, Massachusetts

SCRIPT for broadcast, June 15, 1965

Announcer: The National Broadcasting System takes pleasure in bringing you the music of Hill Trubé and his Trembling Trubédours from the spacious ballroom of the Cottage Farm Plaza. Here each evening, in addition to the music of the Trubé Trubédours, a magnificent floor-show is presented, starring such well-known entertainers as Howard Parker, direct from Arthur Murray's in New York, and his partner, Miss Pat Fielding, in a hilarious exhibition of that quaint, old-fashioned dance step, the Jive. Here, too, we have that outstanding comedian, Jimmy Drab, in his inimitable 1965 version of Stepin Fetchit, and that gorgeous dancer, Miss Harriet Fiskén, in an authentic Hawaiian hula. But now, on with the music, and for his first number Hill has selected the popular new ballad by Preston "Brother" Hicks, entitled, "Foo, Foo." The vocal will be done by a charming little blues singer, Miss Natalie Sears.

Announcer: Among the celebrities here tonight we note the popular actress, Miss Phyllis Thompson, seated at the table of the owner of this beautiful night club, Mr. Robert Rougeot. At his table also are Mr. Ross Burns, recently returned from a skiing exhibition at Sun Valley, and his charming wife, the former Phoebe Neal. Our club is filled this evening with famous personages from nearby Belmont. Today that town celebrated the return of many of her favorite sons and daughters, who came to participate in the festivities of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their graduation from Belmont High School. Over to my right I see Grace Johnson, famous for her portrayal of "Baby Snooks;" seated beside her, resplendant in his blue and gold uniform, is Captain Robin Mack. Mack started his nautical career filling holes in old boats and by constant "plugging" has achieved the post of Captain of the South Boston Ferry. Seated near them is that shining star of New York society, Miss Stephanie Burton, accompanied by Professor George Nacknikian, the great mathematician, author of Figures Don't Lie, Or Why Men Leave Home. Approaching the center of the hall I see the well-known fashion designer, Miss Skippy Gill, accompanied by the socially prominent, Miss Ann Mason.

For our next number we had intended to present the famous Cough Drop duo, the Smith Brothers, Bill and Dick, but owing to the fact that both have developed severe attacks of hoarseness, they will be unable to perform; so in their place we shall substitute those popular comedians, Jack Slifer and Don Campbell, direct from a record-breaking appearance on Broadway. Ladies and gentlemen, Slifer and Campbell!

Announcer: This is Station WBHS in Belmont, Massachusetts. Through the courtesy of the McMurdie Discount and Finance Corporation, whose slogan is, "Here today, gone to borrow," we bring you Dave Gardner and the latest news from the world of sports.

Gardner: Good evening, sport fans! Out at the Belmont Country Club this afternoon we saw a most thrilling climax to the National Open Match when Paul Donahue came from behind to edge out last year's winner, Eddie Egan, by the margin of a single stroke on the thirty-sixth hole. On approaching the final green, Mr. Egan mistook an egg lying on the fairway for his golf ball. Said Mr. Egan after the match, "I guess the yoke's on me."

While this was going on at Belmont, out in Indiana, Eugene "Jeep" Libby broke the track record in the Forty-third Annual Indianapolis Speedway Race in his powerful Sheerin Supercharger.

Brendan Boundy, coach of the New York Grangers' Hockey Team, does not seem discouraged at his team's record of fifty-two straight losses. In a statement today, Coach Boundy said, "Wait till next year."

Up at Hanover, John J. Murphy, athletic director of Dartmouth, announced the appointment of Herbie Arico as coach of the Green's football squad for the coming year.

Reid Buckley, manager of the Boston Bees, informed us over the 'phone this evening that Lefty Hazlett, after pitching his team to two victories in the World Series last year, is holding out for a salary of $45,000.

This is your sports commentator, Dave Gardner. I'll be back at the same time tomorrow night with more news from the world of sports.

Announcer: This is Station WBHS, Belmont, bringing you the latest weather report. The next voice you hear will be that of Charles Cashin, the gloomy weather man.

* * * * *

Cashin: Good evening, everybody!. From the appearance of the weather map this evening tomorrow will be a fairly good day. This evening will be unusually cold for this time of year; the indications are that there will be a slight frost on Belmont Hill, while down in the Winn Brook, a heavy fog is expected.

Announcer: This weather report is sent to you through the courtesy of Berndt's Bakery. Don't forget; always ask for Berndt Bread.

We now bring you our own news commentator, Wally Ahern.

Ahern: Good evening, Mr. and Mrs. North America and all the fish at sea! This is Wally Ahern, the voice of Belmont, giving you the latest news flashes.

This was a big day in Belmont, for the famous class of 1940 gathered at Belmont High School to celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary. In addition to the leading citizens of the town, members of the class from distant cities appeared to lend glamour to the occasion.

Of course, the highlight of the day was the visit to Belmont of our fellow-townsmen and member of the class of 1940, the President of the United States, Richard Whiting. At Concord Avenue Field tonight a monster gathering heard the President address his former classmates. Other members of the class who spoke briefly were Senator Howard Sharpe, Miss Gertrude Moore, President of Wellesley College; and the candidate for Governor of the State, Gordon Scott who has been running for the past eighteen years. At present he is employed as a lunch-guarder on the local WPA project, which is tearing down the sliding doors in the high school gym.

Miss Eleanor Lynch, Ambassador to France, although expected to attend the reunion, eabled that she had lost her French dictionary and did not remember the French for "ticket to America;" consequently Miss Lynch was marooned in Paris.

One of the features of the celebration was the reception tendered Mr. H. Lloyd Philpott, professor at Luna Tech. The chairman of the committee, District Attorney Herbert Griffith, presented Professor Philpott with a gold medal, the gift of the citizens of Belmont. The Professor, after many years of intensive study, recently propounded the amazing theory that "Walls keep the ceiling from resting on the floor."

A special dispatch brings word that Miss Muriel DaCosta and Miss Muriel Fleming have had paintings accepted by the French Academy. It will be remembered that Miss Fleming got her start in the world of art when she painted her father's house while a pupil at Belmont High.

Clark Kendall, who became an amnesia victim immediately after taking his final examination in advanced math, has recently recovered his memory. Mr. Kendall says it all seems like a dream in the fourth dimension.

This concludes my news broadcast; and so until tomorrow I remain your Belmont correspondent, Wally Ahern, who wonders how many of the class prophecies made in 1940 have become the realities of 1965.

FOOTBALL

This year's Red and Blue aggregation can proudly boast a better than average season. For when the dust of the many battles had lifted, Belmont rested securely in a top tie for Middlesex League honors with Winchester, despite the fact that the latter outfit tasted defeat at the hands of our eleven, who incidentally went through the season unbeaten and unscathed upon in league competition. Two early-season scoreless deadlocks with Stoneham and Maynard, in which the Belmont force was vastly superior, marred the otherwise clean record and brought about the afore-mentioned title.

Outside of the league the team did not fare so well. Weymouth and the heat took a 6-0 toll in the initial encounter. Columbus Day saw the Red and Blue, riddled with injuries, soundly defeated by a Cambridge Latin team. In its next engagement, Belmont bounced back into the win column with a close decision over strong Framingham and then dropped a 14-0 verdict to Class B leaders Brookline. Five and six touch down routs of Lexington and Concord brightened the schedule while giving an idea of the power the team possessed. Thanksgiving Day proved a headache to the local gridsters. Succumbing to an air raid that filled the ether with pigskin, Belmont fell victim to a fine Watertown eleven by a 25-6 score that in no way indicates the closeness of the contest.

Possessing no individual star, the team functioned as a unit. The backfield showed flashes of speed and power, while the line at times was immense. Considerable credit must be given to our coach, Mr. Newell, for his efforts, to his assistants, the Messrs. McGovern and Husson, and to "Doe" Grinold for the numerous services he performed in our behalf.

SOCCER TEAM

When Mr. Wenner first realized that only two lettermen, Captain Paul Cahalane and Ray Ripley, were available for soccer, his hopes for a successful season were not too high. Through a little high-pressure salesmanship, some promising Juniors and Seniors became squad members; the result, however, left much to be desired. The highlight of the year was the penalty kick by Lowry Roobyan, converted basketball star, which resulted in Belmont's sole victory. Great praise is due Captain Cahalane and Captain-elect Bill Mannix for their stellar performances in every game. Although Belmont could not boast the league's highest scoring line, it certainly took the size honors; for the team's forward wall consisted of no lesser brutes than Manuel Silva, Jimmie Devlin, Ray Ripley, Lowry Roobyan, and George Clifford.

FIELD HOCKEY

Challenged by the admirable records of former teams, the Belmont High School hockey squad of 1939 started its season determined not to let down the standard. Inspired by the goal they had set for themselves, the girls, under Coach Jane Hill's able management, began a drive for an undefeated season by scoring a victory over their arch rivals, the Arlingtonians. With this added impetuous, it was an easy task to down Concord to the tune of 4-0. Overconfidence, perhaps, accounted for the defeat of Belmont by Winchester and Lexington and although hopes for a perfect record were gone, the squad's spirit swere not crushed. Fortune again smiled at the Watertown and Winthrop games as the team emerged with two ties. The season ended in a blzae of glory as Malden went down to defeat before the B. H. S. girls with the overwhelming score of 5-1.

The last official act of the team was the election of next years leaders, Ann Pettingill, Captain and the Walz Twins, Co-managers.

HOCKEY

Displaying the drive and fight so characteristic of all Belmont teams, the 1939-40 hockey sextet made a respectable showing in the fast Greater Boston League.

Paced by Captain "Putto" Murphy, the team reached the highest place in the league standing since the glorious days of George Ford.

Polly's pucksters were fast and aggressive, constantly bombarding the enemy cage, but they were slightly on the erratic side. Skating to an early lead with a win over highly-touted Melrose, the Belmont forces looked like potential champions, but lapses in territorial coverage and a spasmodic offensive attack frustrated first-place dreams.

Because of their stellar play, Captain Murphy, Charlie Cashin, "Dasher" Daley, and Bill Talbot were chosen on the Greater Boston All-Star Teams that defeated Catholic High of Montreal, Boston College Freshmen and the Bay State League All-Stars.

Season scores:

Belmont	3	Stoneham	3
Belmont	2	Melrose	1
Belmont	0	Newton	7
Belmont	4	Rindge	2
Belmont	1	Arlington	5
Belmont	7	Medford	1
Belmont	2	Cambridge Latin	3
Belmont	2	Newton	7
Belmont	2	Arlington	5
Belmont	4	Stoneham	6

Those receiving letters are:

"Putto" Murphy, Captain, Brendon Boundy, Charles Cashin, Tom Daley, John Guthrie, James Sullivan, Ronald Scott, Alex McLean, "Red" Brown, Will Talbot, and James Griffin, Manager.

BASKETBALL

Under the inspiring leadership of Captain Ross Burns, the Belmont High hoopsters ended a somewhat disappointing campaign in third place behind the undefeated Reading quintet, and the competent Stoneham five in the Middlesex circuit. This was a disappointment to Coach Wel Wenner who had high expectations for this year's quintet with such competent lettermen as Captain Burns, Donahue, Buckley, and Roobyman returning and with Bill Peppard ably filling in the other guard position, but because of poor breaks and lack of baskets they never got started. The season was highlighted by the close competition of Captain Burns and Donahue in a highscoring duel in which the former won out and also by the Wennermen's smashing victory over the undefeated faculty in the annual post season fracas.

The squad consisted of Bill Peppard, Lowry Roobyman, Ross Burns, Paul Donahue, Reid Buckley, Warren Sheering, Tom O'Neil, Eddie Marsh, Parker Carleton, Herbie Griffith, "Smokey" Kelleher, Bill Mannix, and Guy Jackson. The eight lettermen were Burns, Donahue, Buckley, Roobyman, Peppard, Kelleher, Griffith, and Sheerin. Co-captains Marsh and Mannix were elected for next year.

WRESTLING

In an effort to have a more varied athletic program Mr. Harris introduced the strategic sport of wrestling into the Belmont High School. This group of powerful pachyderms was under the expert tutelage of Coach "Larry" McGovern and although late in getting started, came along fast to enter the Massachusetts Interscholastic Wrestling Tourney to bid for "class titles." Following these bouts McGovern's gruesome grapplers were hosts to the Roxbury Latin outfit and dropped a close decision in the last few bouts. The boys wound up a fairly good season on April 3 in an exhibition match with the Perkins Institute of Watertown.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Although the girls' basketball squad did not succeed in winning all their games this year, it had a very successful season as far as fun and good sportmanship are concerned. Having practised for two weeks under Coach Grey's direction, the girls opened their season by tying the Lexington girls in a class game. The following week the varsity team was picked to play its first game against Arlington at Arlington, but unfortunately lost the game to their opponents. After dropping another game to their "grudge" rivals, Winchester, the Belmont girls finally trimmed Concord by a very large margin. The last game with Lexington was so close that it proved a hard one to lose. The team had as its captain, Natalie Paige, a guard, and as its manager, Katherine Congdon. Those girls that participated in the varsity games and received their letters are:

Natalie Paige, Captain
Mildred Betts
Mildred Gilberto
Barbara Nowell
Jessie Tufts

Margaret Keefe
Katherine Quinlan
Margaret Heines
Martha Lynn
Roberta Berry

BASEBALL

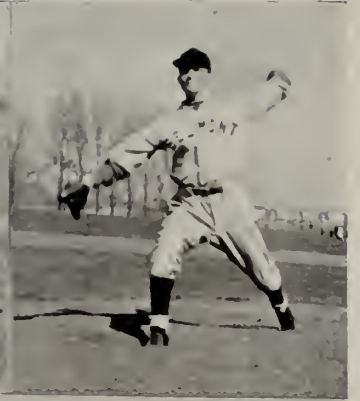

This year's Red and Blue aggregation of "willow wielders" was called out the second week of April by Coach Harris, and by the turnout of potential "Big Leaguers" a very successful season seems in store. Mentor "Polly," looks forward to one of the best seasons in years, with such formidable veterans as Murphy, Buckley, Hazlett, Cashin, Egan, Guthrie, and Toomey returning from last year's campaign. The closest battles for positions will take place behind the bat, around the initial sack and probably the keystone hassock, with Buckley, Hazlett, and Swaine bearing the brunt of the mound duty.

The Harrismen open the season at Winchester, April 24, where they play the very competent Winchester contingent, which may be Belmont's only Waterloo as far as copping the gonfalon in the Middlesex Circuit is concerned.

The schedule is as follows:

Wednesday	April	24	Belmont	at	Winchester
Friday	April	26	Reading	at	Belmont
Tuesday	April	30	Belmont	at	Conecord
Friday	May	3	Belmont	at	Reading
Tuesday	May	7	Belmont	at	Maynard
Friday	May	10	Stoneham	at	Belmont
Tuesday	May	14	Winchester	at	Belmont
Friday	May	17	Belmont	at	Lexington
Tuesday	May	21	Conecord	at	Belmont
Wednesday	May	22	Watertown	at	Belmont
Tuesday	May	28	Maynard	at	Belmont
Friday	May	31	Belmont	at	Stoneham
Tuesday	June	3	Lexington	at	Belmont

TRACK

Though the season is yet to open, the prospects for another Wenner-coached powerhouse are unusually bright. Aided by dependable upper classmen and a promising group of sophomores, optimism is the word of the day. Arico, Carleton, Imler, Apt, and Hennessy are fully capable of bearing the sprinting burdens, while Whiting, Long, Cahalane, and Weeks should take ample care of the middle-distances. The field event outlook is not quite so roscate, even though valuable points are assured in the broad jump. Undoubtedly high-jumpers and shot-putters will blossom forth with the season to evenly balance the team. With the cindermen's brawn and "Uncle" Mel's much-needed brains, a winning combination seems inevitable.

All efforts this year will be directed to bringing back to Belmont the coveted Class B State Trophy. Sandwiched in between the annual Fitchburg Relays and the Needham and Middlesex Interscholastics are a veritable store of interesting dual meets, with Lynn English and the Amherst Relays lending new names to the schedule. Whatever may be the prospects, it is the unenviable task of this year's team to maintain the high standards and fine record set by past Belmont squads.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The responsibilities which devolved on the Student Council during the past year were well handled under the direction of our efficient and competent advisor, Mr. Higginbottom, and president, Ruth Luetters. The treasury is abounding because of the proceeds from various activities such as the sale of candy at the football and basketball games, and the profits from our informal dance. The students generously supported our efforts at the athletic games and the dance was socially and financially successful. The Council was instrumental in arranging medical assistance for those who were injured while competing in the sports and in sending flowers to students who were absent from school for any length of time. Representatives were sent to the Eastern Division of Student Council Convention held at Natick, Massachusetts.

Also, the Council carried out and proposed many suggestions. Among these, the introduction of the Traffic Patrol System, the sale of candy at basketball games, the sponsoring of a dance in honor of the Thanksgiving Day game, and not only these, but innumerable other activities of interest to the school and student body.

The officers for the year were: Mr. Higginbottom, Advisor; Ruth Luetters, President; Jack Hennessey, Vice-President; Mary Carraher, Secretary.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Under the able supervision of Mr. Higginbottom, the Belmont Chapter of the National Honor Society has become more and more an inspiring factor in school life. It offers a real incentive for the attainment of excellence among students.

In 1939, the following members of the organization were accepted: Richard Whiting, President; Raymond Ripley, Vice-President; Gertrude Moore, Secretary; Jessie Tufts, Treasurer; Helen Alexander, Roberta Berry, Muriel DaCosta, Mildred Drolette, Marjorie Elmes, David Gardner, Barbara Kimball, Ann Mason, Jean O'Donnell, Phyllis Thompson, Charlotte Tucker, and Stanley Warshaw.

The members accepted this year were initiated at an impressive ceremony in May, 1940.

The National Honor Society, as it was originally conceived, deemed high Scholarship a requisite in awarding its honors; today, however, the Society also recognizes Leadership, Service, and Character in receiving new members, and thus has broadened the scope of its influence.

ORCHESTRA

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club, "Sunma" has just concluded a most successful year under the guidance of Miss Steuerwald, Miss Johnson, and Mrs. MacRury, who took Miss Johnson's place when she was ill at the beginning of the year. The officers for the year were: Howard Sharpe and Jean O'Donnell as Consuls, (Co-presidents); Elizabeth Paulas Quaestor Tabularium, (Secretary); Stuart Cleveland as Quaestor Aerari, (Treasurer), and Constance Joslin and Charles Kohler as Censors, (Membership Committee).

The members have enjoyed many interesting meetings, including lectures on Pompeii and Herculaneum by Miss Hutchins of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, and by Professor Robathan of Wellesley College.

This organization is a great stimulus to further study of Latin and the Roman civilization for the conventional costume of the Romans is worn by the officers and the Traditional Roman customs are emphasized.

RED CROSS CLUB

The National Junior Red Cross is one of long standing and far reaching enterprise. In the high school, the Junior Red Cross has been carrying on its activities for several years. The scope of its work is of necessity limited, but within these bounds they do much constructive work.

Their first activity takes place in early fall; as soon as the club is organized; a drive for funds is launched. This year the money was used to fill Christmas boxes for Polish children, to finance a party at Christmas for underprivileged youngsters, and to contribute twenty-five dollars to the milk fund in Boston.

The Red Cross Club cheers the lot of many veterans with menu covers on the holidays, favors at Easter, and by filling their cookie jars.

They aided the local senior chapter to launch their drive by joining in the Red Cross parade through Belmont.

Eleanor Lynch and Betty Akeroyd represent the club at the Boston Metropolitan Chapter House where meetings for these Juniors delegates are held monthly. The Boston meeting enables schools to exchange ideas and to receive suggestions from the Director of the Juniors.

There are thirty-five active members who carry on the work under the guidance of Miss Onthank. The president of the organization for the past two years has been Stephanie Burton. The vice president, Phyllis Thompson, Marjorie Cook is secretary and Edward Berndt, treasurer.

BELMONTIAN CLUB

The Belmontian Club has experienced another successful year under the expert guidance of Miss Miller and the leadership of its officers, Jessie Tufts, President; Harriet Fisksen, Vice-President; Miriam Fleming, Secretary; and Eleanor Birch, Treasurer. Cynthia McKee, as chairman of the program committee, secured some fine entertainment for the club, while Harriet Fisksen and Phyllis Thompson were excellent co-chairmen of the refreshment committee.

Throughout the year, the club has had the opportunity to hear many entertaining, as well as educational programs. Readings were given by Mrs. Hazel Chandler Parks, whose work is familiar to us all, and also by Miss Louise Miller of Emerson College. We were fortunate in obtaining such excellent speakers as Margaret Eggleston Owen and Mrs. von Ladau, of the Jackson von Ladau School of Fashion Design.

The club was successful in presenting several plays this year. The first of this type of entertainment was a one-act play entitled, "Between Dances," the next was a combination play and pageant, "Where Lies the Child," which was also presented to the school; the last plays given at a meeting were entitled, "Nobody's Home" and "Husbands Supply" and directed by Miss Seeley of Emerson College. Besides these, the annual Belmontian play, entitled "The Mad Hatters" was presented in April.

A fashion show, sponsored by Filiene's, with some of the club members acting as models, and last but not least, a formal dance, given in May, drew an effective conclusion to the club's activities for the year.

DEBATING CLUB

Although the Debating Club as it is now organized is five years old, the history of debating in Belmont High School is a long one. The first organization called "The Belmont High School Literary and Debating Society," was formed in 1898. Among the charter members was Miss Gertrude Miller.

This year's club has a membership of twenty with: Howard Sharpe, President; Gilbert Krulee, Vice-President; Eleanor Lynch, Secretary; and Alan Cherry, Treasurer.

Mrs. Hornsey, the coach, instructs the members in the finer points of contention. They have held two debates with both Arlington and Concord over the question, Resolved: "The Federal Government Should Own and Operate the Railroads." So indicate the really conservative nature of debating clubs it might be added that in all four cases the negative side was victorious.

Although preparation for debates with other schools occupies the attention of the members, still there are inter-club debates throughout the year. Open forum discussions enable all to voice their opinions extemporaneously.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club enjoyed unusual success during 1939 and 1940 under the capable leadership of Miss Bridey. This year it has a membership of about one hundred and ten students from the second, third, and fourth year classes. The officers of the club are: Raymond Ripley, President; Jean O'Donnell, Vice-President; Gertrude Moore, Secretary; Stanley Warshaw, Treasurer.

Several interesting meetings have been held; the first meeting was a French "Information Please" program, with a "board of experts" made up of members of the club. On another occasion, a lecture, illustrated by films, was given about Paris. At still another meeting, the members heard a most enlightening talk given by Mrs. F. Everett Dyer, a Frenchwoman who described, from personal knowledge, present conditions in war-time France. The Christmas program, consisting of games and French carols played by some of the club's own musicians, was very much enjoyed.

These meetings have brought to us a deeper understanding of the French people as well as a finer appreciation of their language and their country. It is hoped that next year's club will continue to enjoy as much success and pleasure as was experienced this year.

At the April meeting, slides and sketches by some art students illustrated a discussion of tendencies in Modern French Arts and corresponding tendencies in French Music.

SPANISH CLUB

Under the leadership of Malcolm Smith, President; Herbert Arico, Vice-President; Eleanor Birch, Secretary, and Janice Walker, Treasurer, the Spanish Club enjoyed its second successful year since its revival in 1938. The club's activities were ably guided and supervised by Miss Dornzee, the Spanish teacher. For the second time, the club voted to remain Spanish in preference to Pan-American although English is spoken mainly at the meetings.

A full program of events was carried out at the monthly meetings of which the most important were the Pan-American Day and Farewell to Seniors Party.

These features plus the Spanish games and songs have increased the interest in this modern language, and the members all hope that Miss Dornzee and her future clubs will have years as excellent and successful as ours.

GIRL RESERVES

The Belmont Girl Reserves, the younger girls' group of the Boston Y. W. C. A., began their club year by having a "cook-out" supper at Cedar Hill in Waltham. The newly-elected president told of her week's stay at the Girl Reserve Conference at Camp Pequot in Connecticut where she acted as a representative of the Girl Reserves Clubs in greater Boston. It was during this conference that she gained a great deal of valuable information concerning the relationship between the Girl Reserves and the Y. W. C. A., and also had the opportunity of hearing the problems, the functions, and constructions of the Girl Reserves Clubs in the New England States.

The officers for the year 1939-1940 were as follows: Aliss Nielsen, President; Geraldine Amodeo, Vice-President; Ann Amodeo, Secretary; Genevieve Wells, Treasurer.

At the Christmas meeting, the dramatic group presented the play "The Boy of the Meadow," after which Waissal and cookies were served.

"Personality" proved to be an interesting topic for discussion during one of the meetings, and so was followed up by discussions concerning "Clothes" and "Boy and Girl Relations." The last meeting of the club was held in May at which time the new officers were installed and an interesting entertainment followed.

Two delegates from Belmont were sent to the Mid-Winter Conference at Lowell where a testimonial was given, dinner was served, and interesting topics were discussed by the girls.

Next year will be the fifth anniversary of the club and its members hope to find the insignia of Girl Reserves—a circle—the symbol of internationalism—and within the circle a triangle signifying service, loyalty, and friendship—more prominent in the life of each of its members.

BELMONTIA

This year marked the appearance of Belmontia, a paper devoted to the news and activities of Belmont High School. The first two editions of the paper were mimeographed, but so enthusiastically was Belmontia received that it was possible to have the third number printed, and the paper has appeared in that form at intervals since then.

Paul D. Murphy was appointed its first Editor-in-Chief, and he and his staff, under the capable guidance of Mr. Carl G. Olson, of the faculty have worked hard to produce an attractive and interesting publication.

The Staff of Belmontia: Paul D. Murphy, Editor-in-Chief; David Gardner, Sports Editor; Howard Sharpe, Business Manager; Lloyd Philpott, Circulation Manager; Carl G. Olson, Faculty Adviser.

SENIOR PLAY

As its Senior Play for the past year, the Senior Class decided to present a well-known comedy, "Bachelor Born," by Ian Hay. In spite of a rip-roaring blizzard, a large and appreciative audience was present and pleasantly surprised by the excellent histrionics of the cast.

Barbara Fane (Julia Doyle), dissatisfied with the demoralizing effect of Paris, on her nieces, Button (Phoebe Neal), Rosemary (Phyllis Thompson), and Chris (Margery Hayes) decided to bring them to her old friend, Charles Donkin (Harry Garrett), who is a Housemaster at Warbledown School for Boys. The students (Paul Murphy, Raymond Ripley, Jack Slifer, Herbert Arico, and Francis Sharkey) and the professors (Donald Campbell, Milliam Lindroth, and Stanley Marshaw) are properly wowed by the bewitching and romantic antics of the girls. Because Donkin finds it difficult to maintain order in his House, the Headmaster (Robert Lawthers) demands his resignation; but through the clever manipulation of Sir Berkley (Malcolm Smith), Mr. Ovington is appointed to fill another position, and Donkin succeeds him as Head. Throughout the play, Donkin remains impervious to the romantic bustle all about him and remains to the end, a true bachelor.

Other capable members of the cast were Aliss Nielson and Barbara Cole as matron and maid, respectively. The Senior Play committee was composed of the following: Malcolm Smith, Barbara Kimball, Harriet Fiskin, and Jeanne McCoubrey.

THE GONDOLIERS

On the evenings of January 18 and 19, the Music Department of the Belmont Senior High School, under the direction of Mr. Freeman, presented the famous Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Gondoliers," for the benefit of the Sanford B. Comery Scholarship Fund.

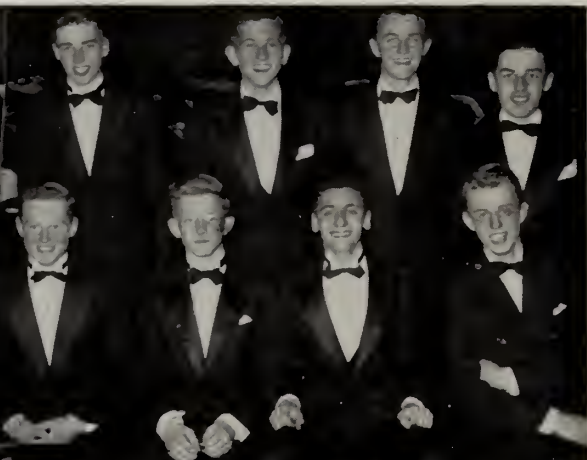

The plot complicates itself about the lost heir to the throne of Barataria who was mixed up in infancy with the sons of a Venetian gondolier. It is believed that one of these sons is the rightful king, but finally he is found to be Luiz, the Duke's drummer-boy.

The capable cast was as follows:

The Duke of Plaza-Toro (a Grandee of Spain)	Raymond Ripley
Luiz (his attendant)	Norman Toppliffe
Don Aldambra Del Bolero (the Grand Inquisitor)	George Nakhnikian
Marco Palmieri	Philip Nalbandian
Guisepppe Palmieri	Philip Sloan
Antonio	Joseph Gustie
Francesco	Leo Heffron
Giorgio	John Anthony
Annibale	Joseph Dee
The Duchess of Plaza-Toro	Elaine Goggin
Casilda , (her daughter)	Gloria Helm
Gianetta	Patricia James
Tessa	Stephanie Burton
Fiametta	Betty Weichel
Vittoria	Ruth Stevens
Giulia	Margery Hayes
Inez (the King's Foster-mother)	Roberta Berry

Journey's End . .

Life is truly a journey and sometimes soon forgotten. Mankind, however, has been given various methods whereby precious memories may be recorded.

Commencement time often marks the end of school and college life for many. Recollections of these happy days and events have been preserved between the covers of this annual.

Entrusted with the responsibility of printing this edition, our craftsmen have endeavored to make this book one which you will treasure, until . . .
